CUMMING OPENS NEW JERSEY OFFICE, CONTINUES STRATEGIC TRI-STATE EXPANSION

NEWARK, N.J. - (Feb. 3, 2015) – Cumming, an international project management and cost consulting firm, announced today it has officially expanded its national operations by opening a new office in New Jersey. Cumming hired Susan DiGiacomo and Richard Brown to serve as Vice Presidents, and to drive the New Jersey office’s local project management growth initiative. Located in Cranford, New Jersey, the new location will expand Cumming’s physical Northeast footprint and allow the firm to continue its strategic expansion across major markets.

DiGiacomo has more than 15 years in the design and construction industry as an owner’s representative and project manager successfully leading a broad range of public and private sector projects throughout New Jersey and the Greater Tri-State-area.

With more than 25 years of industry expertise in the areas of program and project management, Brown brings a wealth of experience in large public sector work in the State of New Jersey. Some of the more notable projects he’s led include the Office of Emergency Management facility for the City of Newark, The Prudential Center, and the Harrison Waterfront Redevelopment.

“Needing to leverage both international reach and intimate local expertise in today’s construction industry, we knew to continue to best serve our Tri-State clients it was necessary to build out our physical presence with a New Jersey office and dedicated team,” said Finlay Cumming, CEO and Founder at Cumming.

Specializing in program, project, construction, and cost management services, Cumming’s nationwide portfolio includes work in a broad range of public and private sectors including, corporate, hospitality, healthcare and education. The firm has more than 100 assignments underway at any given time, and has worked on projects worldwide with a collective value in excess of $100 billion. Cumming’s project experience includes work with Kaiser Permanente, Marriott International, Universal Studios, Facebook, Hilton Worldwide, Walt Disney Imagineering, among many others.
